This book offers a Bible-based plan for money management. It is well organized and each chapter builds upon the previous one while reinforcing lessons already learned. The author also uses real-life stories/metaphors to introduce each chapter. It is easy to read with terms that are neither too technical or dumbed-down. It caters to Christians, as it does contain Bible quotes to back-up its principles but that shouldn't stop the non-Christian from considering buying this book.

Now, more than ever, there is a true need for solid financial planning with a Christian theme. Money Came by the House the Other Day, in this updated and expanded edition provides guidance to any person or family looking to improve their current financial situation. Written by one of the nation's leading Christian CPA's, here is all you need to make short and long-term plans -- using principals found in the Bible. Bob teaches at churches and conferences, and has appeared on Christian television programs such as Enjoying Everyday Life with Joyce Meyer, This is Your Day with Benny Hinn, The 700 Club with Pat Robertson, Life Today with James Robison, and the Harvest Show. This book provides:
* Straight forward, no nonsense financial guidance - with Biblical support
* Easy-to-understand illustrations, income statements, balance sheets, and ways to overcome debt
* Coverage of retirement, insurance, new home acquisition, stock market
* Learn how tithing can become part of your personal and family planning strategy. Unlike any book ever written on financial planning from a Christian perspective.
