Emerald Group Publishing Limited : New Perspectives in Accounting Ethics (Emerald Gems) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised New Perspectives in Accounting Ethics (Emerald Gems):

New Perspectives in Accounting Ethics is a unique collection of articles that represent the very highest level of scholarship in the field. The articles published in this collection identify some emergent themes that have subsequently established themselves as key trends among academics in the field. These include the following:- Accounting and Sustainability - Corporate Social Responsibility - Whistleblowing This new collection provides a key insight into accounting ethics research and will enable readers to access the most important 'thinkers' active in this arena today.

Previously published in Emerald journals between 2010 and 2012, the eight articles in this volume address topics in accounting ethics: accounting ethics education, the effects of organizational ethical climate and culture on conflict and commitment among Chinese accountants, the effects of ethical context and Machiavellianism on attitudes towards earnings management in China, ethics and accounting practices in New Zealand, corporate social responsibility implementation, corruption and whistleblowing in international humanitarian aid agencies, the implications of Michel Foucault's late work in ethics and morality on critical accounting and management, and the effects of organizational change on Enron's ethics.
